

40 Days of Prayer & Devotion to Easter

Day 23

Every family has their troubles. Sometimes it's easy to love each other, and sometimes it's difficult. The family of God has been charged with loving one another as brothers.

If there is any form of competition that is to happen between us, it would be in trying to be the best at showing honor to each other. We show the world the love of God by loving each other well and demonstrating what it is to be a part of the family of God. When we genuinely love each other and live outward, it certainly helps other people want to be a part of the family, too.

As you strive to live outward in your communities, make sure that we're loving our fellow brothers and sisters well by showing each other honor.

– Pastor David Shaw

Love one another with brotherly affection. Outdo one another in showing honor.
